Viereck Jury Hears Two 'Experts' On Propaganda

Prosecution Seeks To Link Berlin With Publications

WASHINGTON,—Two "experts" in German propaganda were called by the Government in the District Court trial of George Sylvester Viereck as the prosecution sought to link publications of Flanders Hall with pamphlets having their origin in Berlin.

The jury of three women and nine men heard Sigfried H. Hauck, former president of the minor New Jersey publishing house, tell of Viereck pouring $22,500 into the company over a period of more than a year and receiving back only $4,500.

To call Dr. Ellinger

The Government planned to call Dr. Werner Ellinger of the Library of Congress, an expert on German publications, and Dr. Robert T. M. Kempner of the University of Pennsylvania, an authority on German law and Nazi agencies, Prosecutor Albert E. Arent announced. Also scheduled to be heard is Thomas Morgan, a Federal Bureau of Investigation accountant, who made a study of Flanders Hall records.

Names of prominent isolationist members of Congress arose during examination of Mr. Hauck. He told of coming to Washington to discuss with Representative Day, Democrat of Illinois, and former Senator Rush D. Holt plans for publication of their books by Flanders Hall. He later identified letters of recommendation from other members of Congress praising Flanders Hall's anti-British books.

The Government contends Viereck remained behind the scene of Flanders Hall operations, but at the same time played the leading part in the firm's business, including the supplying and editing of all manuscripts and having the final say in all business transactions.

Connection Not Hidden

Questioned by Prosecutor George A. McNulty as to who were Flanders Hall's biggest customers, Mr. Hauck replied: "Mr. Viereck and the German Library of Information." The defendant, on subsequent registrations with the State Department, listed the library, a Nazi propaganda agency, as one of his foreign principals.

On cross-examination by Defense Attorney Leo A. Rover, the witness was asked if "there was any attempt to hide Viereck's connections with Flanders Hall." He replied in the negative, adding that "it was not shouted from the roof tops."

Viereck Opposed Totalitarianism

Producing a copy of Viereck's essay, "Seven Against Man," Mr. Rover asked Mr. Hauck if it were not true that the defendant had opposed totalitarianism in any form in the book. He said "yes, that was true." Hauck wrote a preface to the essay, which was published by Flanders Hall.

When questioned on the manuscript submitted by Mr. Day, Mr. Hauck said it was "in poor shape" and had to be revamped. Money to finance the book, titled "We Must Save the Republic," was sent to Flanders Hall from Prescott Dennet and the Make Europe Pay War Debts Committee, the witness testified.

Dennett, along with Viereck, is one of 33 persons indicted on charges of conspiring to undermine the morale of the armed forces.

DENNETT, SOLDIER NOW, 'HAZY' ON VIERECK DEALS

What promised to be a revelatory stroll down memory lane with Pvt. Prescott Dennett, unwilling key witness in the case against German Agent George Sylvester Viereck, wound up in District Court in a blind alley as Dennett's recollection failed him all along the line.

Called to the stand by Special Prosecutor George A. McNulty, the former public relations counsel for a prewar isolationist group at first refused to testify at all on grounds that his responses might tend to entangle him with the War Department's Articles of War.

Service Plea Fails

"The fact that I am now in the Army—a humble member of our military republic, Sir, relieves me of the right to speak as a private citizen," Dennett explained to Justice Bolitha J. Laws.

After a short recess, Col. Archibald King, of the Adjutant General's Office, appeared before the court with the assurance Dennett might go ahead as far as the War Department was concerned.

Whereupon, Dennett admitted he had met Viereck "along about the latter part of 1940 or the first part of 1941." Asked if he recalled any conversation at the time, Dennett replied that "it was a formal introduction and the usual greetings were passed, I believe."

'Things Pretty Hazy'

Pressed by McNulty on the point, the witness insisted that "it was many years ago and things are pretty hazy."

By way of refreshing Dennett's memory, McNulty produced a transcript of the latter's testimony before members of the grand jury which subsequently indicted him for conspiring to undermine the morale of the armed forces.

Subsequent "life in five Army camps" was cited at one point by the witness as having a tendency to make the past unclear.

Clear On Some Points

In the course of the examination, however, the following items were recalled by Dennett with some certainty:

The Make Europe Pay War Debts Committee was founded by the late Senator Ernst Lundeen (F.-L.), of Minnesota; Gen. Smedley Butler, Lynn E. Gale and Dennett himself. Viereck he said, became associated shortly afterwards with the group but "was not interested in having his name appear on the letterheads."

Approximately $5,000 "which he might have received from Viereck" went to help defray the cost of Congressional Record reprints of isolationist speeches.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dennett, indicted twice with Viereck and 31 others "to demoralize the armed forces," did not have to testify at all, since his testimony will be used against him, if and when the "conspiracy" charges come to trial. Defense attorneys are asleep, evidently.

OH YEAH? COLD SOBER?

"The governor smokes—usually a pipe. When he drinks, it is normally a highball, with which he dallies protractedly. Once or twice he has enjoyed a convival evening, tipping glass for glass with friends, and, to the quiet amazement of his secretary, former law partner and intimate friend, Don Power, remaining sold sober."—Forrest Davis, Sat. Eve. Post, 7-10-43, on John William Bricker, Governor of Ohio, candidate for G. O. P. nomination to presidency of U. S. A.

Bellon Says Dictatorship Over County Officials' Convention

Supervisor Walter Bellon, who recently returned from the annual meeting of the National Association of County Officers held in Omaha, submitted a 60-page typewritten report to the supervisors.

He gave a preview of his report to a recent meeting of the Republican County Central committee, in which he amazed those present with the announcement that official Washington would not give its consent even that the convention might be held unless the New Deal bureaucrats would be given the right to dictate the program, read all the speeches before they were delivered, censor and delete objectionable references to national affairs and supervise the "hand-outs" given the press associations.

As a result little or nothing went out over the press wires about what transpired at the convention, only one Omaha newspaper with its own reporters present giving anything like a report of the meeting.

One North Dakota newspaper sent a correspondent to Omaha by plane when it discovered that it wasn't getting the news.

The government sent Maury Maverick, defeated congressman from Texas, with a staff of eight assistants to Omaha to run the convention. His quarters required an entire floor in one of the principal Omaha hotels, and included in his activities was the job of writing the introductions to all the speeches that were delivered.

One man, County Supervisor Smith of Los Angeles, was so embittered that he frankly stated, in beginning his speech, that "This is what the government at Washington orders me to read."

Supervisor Bellon declared that without exception the county officials present were in a high stage of rage as well as alarm over the evident determination of the present administration to crush the life out of all local governmental agencies, concentrating all power and authority in Washington under bureaucracy.

One Connecticutt supervisor, said Mr. Bellon, announced that in his state local government had practically disappeared, having been usurped by the national capital.

Mass Trial In The Capital

WASHINGTON, D. C., (Special)—Before a new grand jury, to be impaneled on July 13, will go the new prosecutor, O. Jne. Rogge, asking for a new indictment against the 33 AND SEVERAL OTHERS. He has worked on it since March 20.

Washington's PREJUDICED atmosphere will prevent a fair trial and make conviction of most, if not all, of the accused a CERTAINTY, unless an outside judge presides.

The New Deal oligarchy desperately wants convictions in this case, so as to frighten and silence American editors during their 1944 campaign, to establish a permanent presidency. They intend to hold control permanently over the 22 billion dollars of gold, if the people will submit.

See "PM's" series of attacks on the persecuted "33"! They were referred to by the "N. Y. Post" on June 23rd as follows:

"And would not these outbreaks (Detroit, etc.), have been less likely to occur if isolationist senators —Nye, Wheeler, etc.—had denounced such race-haters (as Deatherage and True), when they were indicted, instead of leaping to the defense of the DIRTY THIRTY-THREE?"

The Post goes on the theory that the indicted are the only "racists" in America; yet the "Jewish Examiner" of week before last (Brooklyn) quoted Dr. L. M. Birkhead as admitting that "Anti-Semitism is now accepted in the highest society." (Don't quote me; quote him).

As to protection of our rights in the courts, the following quotation tells the story:

"Actually, of course, the courts are available in proportion to one's ability to pay for their use."—Prof. Edward S. Robinson of Yale, in "Law and Lawyers."

Censorship is useful not only in hiding information from the enemy, but also in covering up blunders of the administration.

SOCIALIZING THE U. S. A.

(Vista Press, Vista, Calif.)

Another American whose interests are at stake—one who will be destroyed as a factor in the nation's life by the newest OPA proposal—is the average businessman. Here is what one of them had to say before a Congressional Committee investigating the plan, a storekeeper at Cambridge, Mass., and mayor of his town:

"I believe that independent merchants are face to face with a death sentence under the OPA order. I am not mad at anybody. I am loyal to the core. But if, for reasons not apparent to me, it seems to the Government to be socially desirable to liquidate the independent merchant as an economic factor in this country, I believe, as an American citizen living in a great democracy, that it is only fair that the decision should be announced definitely, so that thousands like me can know. I do not believe it wise or just to slip into such a policy through the back door, without a frank statement of intention."

Red Intrigue Under The Flag

Whenever a United States Army transport leaves an American harbor it probably carries something besides soldiers or supplies to Africa or the Pacific war zones.

It also carries, in all likelihood, one or more SECRET AGENTS concealed among the crew—the secret agents not of our Government, but OF AN ORGANIZATION THAT EXISTS TO OVERTHROW THE GOVERNMENT.

These agents are members of the Communist Party.

Working closely with Communist "cells" along the waterfront, the Red emissaries are surreptitiously distributing large quantities of Communist "literature" to the crews, in order to make Communists of the men.

Exhibits obtained from protesting loyal American seamen include a compact but complete "kit" containing a number of selected pamphlets by Communist Party leaders, together with "reading lists" giving the titles of scores of Communist publications.

This activity is only one phase of the current Communist effort to make use of the war spirit in promoting Communism.

Throughout the nation, in fact, the Communist Party has been carrying on an intensive membership campaign.

In New York alone, the "Daily Worker" reports, 5000 new members have been recently enrolled.

But the maritime and waterfront activity is possibly the most sinister phase of the campaign; for one of the original objectives of the Communist International is to obtain control of the ports and shipping lines of the world.

All along our coasts the Communists are accordingly endeavoring to raid and to disrupt the old-line labor organizations, such as the International Longshoremen's Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

Consequently, the Communist activities aboard our military transports are part of a far-reaching land-based Communist offensive.

The Government can and should immediately stop this activity.

The American people do not want our transports to be used as Communist couriers to the fighting fronts.—L. A. Examiner.

DO NOT ABANDON YOUR ANIMALS

The California Animal Defense and Anti-Vivisection League, Inc., of Los Angeles issues the following warning to animal owners throughout the state of California:

Due to the result of rationing, victory gardens and rabies scare, many animals, dogs and cats are being abandoned. Such abandonment is a specific violation of the state law and carries with it a fine. The California Animal Defense and Anti-Vivisection League hereby calls upon the law enforcement agencies to instruct their officers to vigorously enforce this law.

Animal Shelters are available in practically every community where unwanted animals may be taken or called for and humanely disposed of. The league asks the fullest cooperation of the citizens in this critical situation involving the animals.

"ORMAZD AND AHRIMAN"

By C. Leon de Aryan

Editor's Note—I have most scrupulously abstained from involving anybody in my tussle with the political powers that be, which resulted in my being twice indicted by a federal D. C. grand jury when Los Angeles and Sacramento grand juries refused to do so. Since I alone am able to cope with the problem in hand even Mrs. de Aryan had her divorce in time to be free of any connection with me at the critical hour. I can and do stand alone and mind my own, I hold my own.

The subject of "Ormazd and Ahriman" would have been presented to the Mazdaznan Gahanbar at Los Angeles, on June 29, in such a language and form as not to involve anybody in the remotest manner in the battle now going on for constitutional liberties which soon will break out again in a new, the third indictment, to be rendered by a D. C. grand jury, on the eve of the fourth term campaign, against opponents of the present administration.

Since the managers of the Gahanbar preferred to deny me the platform to speak on the subject as announced, after they had solicited speakers from the audience for their alleged Open Forum, I have now enlarged the scope and the field covered and am presenting "Ormazd and Ahriman" not merly in its religious aspect but in the full significance in the world conflict now raging. The readers of THE BROOM are hereby profiting from the deplorable incident on Sunday afternoon, June 27, when the Gahanbar managers openly and avowedly turned "Peters in the courtyard" to save their precious hides, deserting the Open Forum principle and that of religious freedom in these United States of America.

V STANDS FOR VICTORY

"In hoc signo vinces"

"May Mazda be rejoiced and His associates continue to be victorious . . . May peace come to one and all and may there be given to this country Purity, Dominion, Profit, Majesty and Splendor, Amen!"

This is the prayer every Mazdaznan has been taught to reiterate in the early morning hours and it gives us the solution to all present day problems. The battle for victory is on, it started when the hosts of Angro Mainyus seceded and set themselves up as counter creators to the divine plans of Ahura Mazda. While I am using here the proper terms for the dual aspect of creators and creation, the common usage of the historic jargon replaced Ahura Mazda with the slang term of "Ormazd," while Angro Mainyus was denoted as "Ahriman" or Lucifer, Satan, Devil.

Thus we, as Mazdaznans, were in this war long before anybody else in these U. S. A. was conscious that a war for human liberty was being waged. We prepared for it and we prayed for victory; not the victory of brutality, but the victory of nobility which brings joy to the Lord God Mazda and power to His associates here on earth to set the example that brings freedom to the world. For there is only one rule that produces peace and abundance, security for one and all, the RULE of God. "Seek ye therefore first the Rule of God and its righteousness and all these things will accrue," was the admonition of our blessed Savior. Thus we do not strive for democracy, the rule by the ignorant demos and its demagogues, we strive for Theocracy, the Kingdom of God on earth and we pray, "Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven."

Theocracy comes from the Greek Theos, Theaomai, meaning the Beholder of the great Vision, plan of creation, thus it is a rule with the vision of God's plan for humanity everlastingly before us. We are not blind, we know where we are going, we know whom we are serving, we know the truth and we know God, our Lord. That's why we call Him MAZDA, because in His Light we need not stumble but with open eyes may pass through the amazing paths of life to fulfillment of His plan in earth.

Those who like ourselves have consecrated themselves to the service of Mazda, need never worry about what is right or wrong. We are following the infallible path of faith in His Wisdom and we demonstrate it scientifically. While the others who reject this path must learn the hard way, they are followers of the counter creation and they must suffer first before they learn to think rightly. And so the battle is joined between us who live by precept and them who prefer the hard way, of suffering and torturous experience.

We need not fear nor hesitate, for the end of all experience leads to God. We who have chosen rightly from the start will meet them at the end. While they in their denseness and ignorance consider us their enemies because we stand for Principle from the start, they will, perforce, acclaim us as their saviors in the end when suffering has broken their stubborn spirit of resistance and they cry out in agony for LIGHT. Then we, the light bearers, respond to their heart-tortured cry and minister unto them.

But the Master warned us that as His disciples we would be hated by the world and He admonished us not to fear for our lives, for he that loses his life in the service of our Lord shall win it, while he who gives up the service to save his life shall lose it. And He told us that we would be charged with crime and sedition, for was not He also charged with crime and sedition and sentenced to be crucified by the demagogues who incited the mob to raise their voices to out-shout the Roman procurator when he said that he could find no fault in the blessed Savior! And we were warned that we, too, would be dragged before the synagogue of Satan, but that he who endured to the end shall be saved and enter into the joy of the Father.

The words of the Savior endure. We are put to the test. Do we stand upon His command or do we follow Peter's example in the courtyard?

I am able to report, that for one, I have placed my faith in the service to our blessed Savior. When I took my oath of allegiance to the Constitution and its Bill of Rights, I took it in full cognizance that it was a three-cornered covenant. A covenant entered upon by the people of these U. S. A in which they pledge their faith in God and upon that faith I pledged mine. Now the people are put to the test. Do they keep faith with God? And I am put to the test. Do I keep faith wih God to defend this Constitution against ALL enemies, whomsoever, foreign and domestic?

"May Mazda be rejoiced and His associates continue to be victorious" . . . I am able to announce that I have come out victorious. I never gave in nor gave up. I placed my faith in God. We Mazdaznans are a fortunate people. WE KNOW GOD, we don't "believe" in God. We are not blind followers of anybody or anything. We do everything with open eyes and in full knowledge of all the laws that are involved. There is no violence, nor violation of any law in us. We are an orderly, self-disciplined, self-governed people. We do not live by murder, robbery or treachery. We are vegetarians, we grow our own and live first-hand of the fruits of our labor, we do not partake of the vegetable bounty second-hand by feeding it to animals and then murdering them to eat what's left after they used up the best.

Thus not having violated the law of life we need not fear for our lives, for only he that draws the sword needs perish by it, while he who sows shall reap what he sowed, for God cannot be mocked. Thus we can stand right in the center of the battlefield and survey it as far as the eyes will reach. We are biding our time when the wounded and the maimed, the dying and the tortured will cry out for mercy and for light and then our service begins.

And so I never doubted but that in my extremity lays God's opportunity. When I was in jail in San Diego, Los Angeles and Washington, D. C., I turned to God. When I returned to San Diego and alighted off the street car, one of the subscribers to THE BROOM saw me. Three months later she told me: "I saw you as you stood up in the car and walked out and I said to myself, 'there goes Mr. de Aryan. He is much thinner, he lost weight, but he has something nobody can take away from him'. There was a dignity about you and a poise which you did not have before."

And turning to God increased my stature for I held to the vision of the Founding Fathers who wrote our Declaration of Independence from English tyranny and King and who gave us the Constitution and our Bill of Rights. Though all the forces of the administration in Washington are arraigned against me, they could not prevail against the covenant the people had made with me when they accepted me as a citizen of this Republic. For our covenant is three-cornered: God, the people and myself. So I held to my part and never gave in. That then, made it possible for the people to reassert themselves. Strangers, I had not known existed, called on me and in the person of the president of the American Bar the covenant was executed, for he paid the premium for the bail and upon his good repute a bail bondsman decided to gamble and give me my freedom to again edit THE BROOM and give testimony of the infallibility of our faith in God and in the

JOHN PETER ZENGER AND ANDREW HAMILTON

Third Installment

By C. Leon de Aryan

(Concluded from Last Week)

WASHINGTON,—In re-reading the history of the trial of Zenger and the dedication of a plaque to Andrew Hamilton by the New York County Lawyers' Association, I find that I made a mistake about the jurors' fine of 40 marks. This incident took place in England, not in New York, and it was at the trial of William Penn and Mead, for preaching a Quaker sermon in Grace Church Street.

Continuing his dedication speech in New York, Harry Weinberger added:

"Hamilton also said:

" 'It is agreed upon by all men this is a reign of liberty, and WHILE MEN KEEP WITHIN THE BOUNDS OF TRUTH I HOPE THEY MAY WITH SAFETY BOTH SPEAK AND WRITE THEIR SENTIMENTS OF THE CONDUCT OF MEN IN POWER . . . . Were this to be denied, then the next step may make them slaves.'

"Hamilton spoke at length of the great trial of William Penn and Mead in England as a precedent. That being Quakers and having met in a peaceable manner after being shut out of their meeting house, preached in Grace Church Street and were arrested for disturbance of the peace. He described how the court ordered the jury to find them guilty and, as Hamilton quaintly stated:

" 'But the jury did not think fit to take the court's word for it.'

"And they acquitted Penn and Mead, and the court was so offended that they fined the jury 40 marks apiece and ordered them committed until paid, but one juror, Mr. Bushel, refused to pay and brought habeas corpus to be relieved from his fine and imprisonment, and he was released, the court holding his imprisonment illegal.

"Hamilton then pleaded to the jury:

" 'Let us at least do our duty, and like wise men (who value freedom), use our utmost care to support liberty, THE ONLY BULWARK AGAINST LAWLESS POWER, which in all ages has sacrificed to its wild lust and boundless ambition THE BLOOD OF THE BEST MEN that ever lived.'

"In conclusion, Hamilton said:

" 'The question before the court, and you gentlemen of the jury, is not of small or private concern, it is not the cause of a poor printer, nor of New York alone, which you are now trying. No! It may in its consequence affect every freeman that lives under a British Government on the mainland of America. It is the best cause. It is the cause of liberty . . . for securing to ourselves, to our posterity, and our neighbors, that to which nature and the laws of our country have given us a right—the liberty—both of EXPOSING AND OPPOSING ARBITRARY POWER (in these parts of the world, at least), by speaking and writing truth'.

"The court desired the jury to bring in a special verdict that Zenger printed and published, leaving to the court the matter of law as to whether it was libelous. Hamilton insisted the jury had the right and power to decide the law and the facts and the jury brought in a verdict within 10 minutes of 'not guilty'. The next morning Zenger's discharge was moved and granted, and he was released from jail."

The President Of The American Bar

The tradition of the bar, in asserting its independence, has in the present case been valiantly upheld by George Maurice Morris, president of the American Bar.

Two Grand Juries refused to indict Zenger but he was brought to trial "upon information by the Attorney General."

Twice the Federal Grand Jury in Los Angeles did not indict me, as requested by the U. S. Attorney in Los Angeles upon "evidence" presented by Harold Nathan, of the F.B.I. in San Diego, but finally "upon information of the Attorney General," I was indicted in the District of Columbia WITHOUT the privilege of facing the jurors previous to the indictment.

Bail was set at $5,000 while I was worth perhaps $50 at the time. I was held in jail for almost six months and transferred in manacles and leg-chains to the city of Washington, where I was charged with having committed the crime of "conspiracy" even though I had not been there since 1919.

There was no Andrew Hamilton of Philadelphia, "America's greatest lawyer of that time," to do his part in releasing me from jail, but the president of the American Bar, the ranking lawyer in the U. S. A., according to the honor bestowed upon him by America's lawyers themselves, stepped in and wrote his personal check for $50, to pay the bail bond premium, when finally Justice Adkins decided that my bail was out of bounds.

And even then, brokers were dubious of taking a chance in writing my bond, but Morris' verbal promise to my court-appointed attorneys to stand good for my living expenses, should my friends fail me as they had failed in the matter of bail, finally encouraged the broker to write my bond, which released me from prison.

Really wise is he who, in spite of phenomenal changes wrought by time, continues to hold his own and to follow the promptings of the still small voice of the divine spirit within the heart of his being.

A plant void of the required consciousness of corresponding congenialities bounding it within as well as without, cannot rise above its set traits, neither can man attain to what he is not called at the time of his creation.

OUR GROUNDHOG WORLD

By GEORGE CARTWRIGHT

Dauntless Danes

A few years ago, when Denmark had a population of a little over a million, a Dane left because he could not find work. Now, with a population of three and a half million, in territory one-twentieth that of Ontario, Canada, there is almost no unemployment.

Denmark adopted a law exempting from taxes dwellings to the value of $2500, and a good house can be built there for $3000. This made taxes on homes very small. Increased tax on land discouraged holding land idle. Not only were Copenhagen slums rebuilt but new areas were built up.

While Danes are famous for success of their cooperative enterprises, one of the cooperative leaders stated, "If it had not been for our land reforms, we should not have had our folk schools or our cooperatives either."

—Margaret Bateman in Square Deal

Freedom

Have we freedom of expression? Not when millions of citizens are deprived of the right to vote by the poll tax. Have we freedom from want and fear? Not while the Old South is such Pearl Buck declares sharecroppers and tenant farmers' children—even Negro children in Harlem—more hopeless and tragic than she had seen in China or India. Have we religious freedom while conscientious objection to war is punished by imprisonment and persecution of Jehovah's Witnesses goes on unabated?

people who are a party to our covenant, or, what some call, our experiment in government in these U. S. A.

In this fashion we demonstrate the power of the Truth over the synagogue of Satan. Scripture is fulfilled and he that endured till the end shall be saved and enter into the joy of the Father who watches over us and takes care of the sparrow and clothes the lily. Therefore, why should we fear, why should we worry? The battle is joined, let's step into our respective places and face our adversaries. They pretend to strive for God and country, for liberty, not once but fourfold, everywhere in the world. Let's take them at their word and compel them to respect our liberty in this blessed land of ours where we covenanted to establish the Rule of God in earth.

Don't fear, assert your rights, such is your duty. Stand by your rights. We, the people, are the rulers in this land. If we betray our trust whom will we trust? Whom will our children trust?

And so as trustees of this heritage from the Founding Fathers let's again pledge our lives, our substance and our sacred honor, to be true citizens of this great commonwealth and take part in the active government of our country. And to this end may all things prosper. Amen!
